-DSG's EDC technology presence at 2009 SCDM conference highly anticipated - MALVERN, Pa.--(Business Wire)-- DSG, Inc., the leader in EDC and clinical software technology, is already the center of attention leading up to the 2009 SCDM Annual Conference. The excitement is centered around DSG's continuing role as a pioneer in the EDC (electronic data capture) field, with over 500 attendees eager to see the latest developments and the future of EDC from DSG.

The Society for Clinical Data Management (SCDM) Annual Conference, a key event for the Clinical Data Management community, takes place in Seattle October 4-6, 2009.

DSG, one of the major sponsors of the event, has been honored two years running for excellence in the EDC arena and is presenting at two prominent event sessions. DSG is leading the move forward on clinical trials, providing electronic data capture (EDC) for clinical trial data collection and management on a global basis. DSG is accelerating the change from paper data collection and management to the highly efficient electronic data system of eCaseLink, making the transition seamless, efficient and cost-effective.

DSG was honored by the SCDM in 2007 with the First Place Data Driven Innovation Award for its unique IWRS system - a fully integrated randomization and drug/medical device module that dramatically cuts costs and increases safety by seamlessly integrating complex randomization schemes, drug/device accountability, drug supply management, and supply chain forecasting. In 2008, DSG won Second Place for its interactive and centralized Clinical Data Quality Control (CDQC) checklist that combines both system data and user enterable data to assess the status of "cleanliness" for a given project.

SCDM asked DSG's Suzanne Lamerand to speak at two key sessions this year. The sessions include: 100 Percent EDC is Not Only Realistic, It's a Necessity: Session 1A on Monday, October 5, 2009 9:30 A.M. - 10:45 A.M. and Site and Monitor Perspective on CRF / eCRF Design: Session VIB: Tuesday, October 6, 2009 11:45 A.M. - 1:00 P.M.

Attendees of the conference are expected to gravitate to booth #405 to experience DSG's eCaseLink, which is known to drive down costs, reduce trial time, improve accuracy, prevent risk and use data more effectively in clinical trials.

"We are honored to hold the Data Driven Innovation Award for both 2007 and 2008," said Tony Varano, chief executive officer of DSG. "These important awards and DSG's prominent speaking roles at the conference provide further confirmation that we are developing highly successful and innovative solutions that improve trial efficiencies, accuracy and ultimately patient safety. DSG's solutions have changed the way our customers collect, manage and integrate clinical trial data. People are already excited to see for themselves why eCaseLink is getting so much attention and positive feedback in the clinical trial community. And they'll have that opportunity at this year's SCDM Conference."
