

DSG Announces Two New Clients for its eCaseLink™ EDC Software

- Clients Cite Customer Service and Ease of Use as Keys to Selection -

OAKS, Pa., June 16 /PRNewswire/ -- Document Solutions Group, Inc. (DSG), a provider of clinical trial data collection software and services, today announced two new clients, a multi-national pharmaceutical company and a medical device company, for its eCaseLink™ electronic data capture (EDC) software. DSG's eCaseLink will enable the companies to collect and analyze data more efficiently from investigator sites, reducing the trial cycle time by providing cleaner data up front.

For both clients, DSG will design the electronic case report forms (eCRFs) from the protocol and will create the database for each trial. Additionally, DSG will provide study set-up, training, user manuals, help desk and data hosting services.

"We have been building great momentum since our product demonstration at the Drug Information Association's Clinical Data Management meeting in March," said Tony Varano, president and CEO of DSG. "These new clients come on the heels of other major new accounts as well as additional repeat business. Life sciences companies are seeing the benefits of eCaseLink -- fast study set-up, clear cost advantages and high site acceptance."

eCaseLink is thin-client EDC, but it operates with the speed and efficiency of a thick-client solution. Through DSG's unique technology, rules for edit checks reside on a PDF form that looks identical to paper CRFs; error messages, even cross-panel validation checks, execute before data are submitted to a central server.

About Document Solutions Group, Inc.

DSG, Inc., headquartered in Oaks, PA, delivers innovative clinical data capture software products and related services, including electronic data capture software, electronic patient diaries and digital on-demand printing software, to its life sciences clients. CaseLink®, DSG's flagship product, is the industry's leading digital on-demand printing software that allows clients to create, update and print individualized case report form books for clinical trials. eCaseLink™ combines this CRF design and delivery expertise with Web-based technology, providing the only EDC solution that delivers electronic data entry screens that are identical to paper CRFs. All of DSG's products can be deployed independently or as a suite, allowing clients to support accurate and efficient data capture at any investigator site regardless of the technological infrastructure.
