

DSG, INC. ANNOUNCES DISMISSAL OF DATASCI LAWSUIT

Malvern, PA, March 13, 2007—DSG, Inc. today announced that Datasci, LLC ("Datasci") and Documents Solutions Group, Inc. ("DSG") have agreed to settle a pending patent infringement action in the U.S. District Court for the District of Maryland relating to Datasci's U.S. Patent No. 6,496,827. Under the terms of the agreement, the patent infringement action against DSG is being dismissed. The remaining terms of the agreement between Datasci and DSG are confidential.

“We are very pleased that this lawsuit is dismissed, and our current customer base and prospects will be excited to know that this lawsuit is behind us so we can put all our energies toward our customers and products in the life sciences industry,” commented Tony Varano, CEO of DSG. He continued, “We have exciting expansion plans including several major customer deals in Japan and the opening of two new offices in Europe later in 2007 that we’ve been working on and will be announcing soon.”

DSG, Inc. has been supporting clinical trial data collection with innovative technology solutions including EDC, electronic patient diaries and digital on-demand CRF publishing management software since 1992. DSG’s products allow user-friendly, accurate and efficient data capture at any investigator site regardless of the site’s technological infrastructure.
